

The Finance Department in the Kelley School of Business at Indiana University – Bloomington invites applicants with an expertise in real estate for tenured/tenure-track positions at the assistant, associate, or full levels to begin fall 2024. We are seeking individuals who have a demonstrated success in working with diverse faculty and student populations. We welcome candidates whose work will help us advance the School's diversity, equity, and inclusion initiatives and programs.

A doctoral degree in Real Estate, Finance, or a related area (or ABD status in the case of the Assistant rank) and strong records (or promise in the case of Assistant rank) in both research and teaching are required. Teaching requirements may include undergraduate, masters, and doctoral level classes.

Before a conditional offer of employment with tenure is finalized, candidates will be asked to disclose any pending investigations or previous findings of sexual or professional misconduct. They will also be required to authorize an inquiry by Indiana University Bloomington with all current and former employers along these lines. The relevance of information disclosed or ascertained in the context of this process to a candidate's eligibility for hire will be evaluated by Indiana University Bloomington on a case-by-case basis. Applicants should be aware, however, that Indiana University Bloomington takes the matters of sexual and professional misconduct very seriously.

Interested applicants should review position requirements and apply at <https://indiana.peopleadmin.com/postings/20110>.

Those desiring further information on these positions may contact:
