

Director of Learning and Academic Success Initiatives

The Georgia Institute of Technology invites inquiries, nominations, and applications for its next Director of Learning and Academic Success Initiatives. This director position is an on-site leadership role.

The Georgia Institute of Technology is a top-ranked public research university situated in the heart of Atlanta, a diverse and vibrant city with numerous economic and cultural strengths. The Institute serves over 45,000 students through top-ranked undergraduate, graduate, and executive programs in engineering, computing, science, business, design, and liberal arts. Georgia Tech's faculty attracted more than $1.4 billion in research awards this past year in fields ranging from biomedical technology to artificial intelligence, energy, sustainability, semiconductors, neuroscience, and national security. Georgia Tech ranks among the nation's top 20 universities for research and development spending and is ranked number one among institutions without a medical school.

Reporting to the executive director of Academic Success and Advising (ASA) and serving as a member of the ASA and Office of Undergraduate Education (OUE) leadership teams, the director assumes leadership and responsibility for programs and services that provide academic assistance and promote student learning, with an emphasis on peer instruction in introductory STEM (science, technology, engineering, and mathematics) and other quantitative courses. This position will provide leadership to all STEM peer-learning and academic support programs offered by ASA. These include tutoring (one-to-one, group tutoring, and online); supplemental instruction (PLUS); learning assistant (LA) program; study sessions (e.g., reading days); Tech Prep; and other related peer learning programs for (primarily) undergraduate STEM and quantitative courses.

The salary is competitive with a comprehensive benefits package. Please get in touch with Laura Puckett-Boler for the salary range.

Qualifications

Minimum qualifications include a doctorate in any of the following areas: a STEM field; STEM education field (e.g., chemical education, physics education); higher education administration; psychology; counseling; or another related field. At least five years of professional administrative experience at the assistant director (or equivalent position) level or higher, leading and providing student success and academic support programs within higher education.

Application and Nomination

Georgia Tech has selected Spelman Johnson, a leading executive search firm, to assist with leading this search. The review of applications will begin on February 6, 2025, and continue until the position is filled. Submit a resume and cover letter via <https://apptrkr.com/5926266>

- Contact Laura Puckett-Boler at lpb@spelmanjohnson.com for confidential inquiries.
- Applicants needing reasonable accommodation to participate in the application process should contact Spelman Johnson at 413-529-2895 or email info@spelmanjohnson.com.

Visit the Georgia Tech website at <https://gatech.edu>.

The Georgia Institute of Technology is an Equal Employment Opportunity Employer. The University is committed to maintaining a fair and respectful environment for all. To that end, and in accordance with federal and state law, Board of Regents policy, and University policy, Georgia Tech provides equal opportunity to all faculty, staff, students, and all other members of the Georgia Tech community, including applicants for admission and/or employment, contractors, volunteers, and participants in institutional programs, activities, or services. Georgia Tech complies with all applicable laws and regulations governing equal opportunity in the workplace and in educational activities. Georgia Tech prohibits discrimination, including discriminatory harassment, on the basis of race, ethnicity, ancestry, color, religion, sex (including pregnancy), sexual orientation, gender identity, gender expression, national origin, age, disability, genetics, or veteran status in its programs, activities, employment, and admissions. This prohibition applies to faculty, staff, students, and all other members of the Georgia Tech community, including affiliates, invitees, and guests. Further, Georgia Tech prohibits citizenship status, immigration status, and national origin discrimination in hiring, firing, and recruitment, except where such restrictions are required in order to comply with law, regulation, executive order, or Attorney General directive, or where they are required by Federal, State, or local government contract.